

Angelyn Christy Voss

Media Questions

How did your early upbringing on the East Side of Chicago inspire you to write this book?

You highlight a multicultural world with Greece as its focus. What can we learn about this cultural heritage and its impact through your writing?

You also spotlight the multigenerational aspect. Talk about the interrelationships. What can we take away from this for our own lives?

As an author, what did you learn when writing this book? What surprised you the most?

How did you feel about the relationship between the children in this story?

What does the title mean?

There are such contrasting personalities in your story, and you focus on a theme of forgiveness. Tell us about this. And what is your purpose?

How does the idea of cultural and racial acceptance play out in this story?

You suggest this is a good book for reader groups and book clubs. Are there Study questions available?

You are an artist and writer. How do those creative endeavors go together?

Describe your writing and art spaces.

What advice can you give to an aspiring writer or artist? What is your definition of success?

What formats can we find your book?

Where is your book available?

For a review copy, an interview, or for more information, contact
Sharon Castlen 631-979-5990 ibmarket@optonline.net